Introduction

Would you rather... seem strong and fearless but lose everything that means something to you? Or get off your high horse and show some feeling in order to save it? Okonkwo, one of the most powerful, wealthy leaders and wrestling champions of the village of Umuofia in Nigeria takes a wrong turn. He decides to try and maintain his emotionless, strong, hardworking reputation instead of showing some emotion. Due to this decision, everything that meant something to him was destroyed. He kills his son, accidentally kills a man at a ritual ceremony, and his village gets taken over by "white men" who peacefully influence their culture and convert people to their religion. After reading this book, put yourself in Okonkwo's place... You will learn how to use either Prezi, Voki, Glogster, or Story bird - depending on which format you prefer - in order to complete your task. Now go to the task tab to find out what your task is!

Tasks

YOUR TASK... Is to put yourself in Okonkwo's shoes. How would you feel with the pressure that came from having a lazy father, and trying to be completely different from him in every way possible? You are going to put yourself in his shoes and either write journal entries, make a presentation comparing him and his father, draw a cartoon, or re-write the ending of the novel. After doing so, we will have a debate based on the decisions Okonkwo made and whether he was right or wrong. Finally, you will create in whatever format you would like, a final product stating your personal opinion on Okonkwo's actions and what he could have done differently. Go to the process tab to see the steps you need to go through in order to accomplish the task!
