

The March on Washington

WebQuest Description:

Grade Level:

Curriculum:

Keywords:

Published On:

Last Modified: 2013-07-24 10:07:35

WebQuest URL: <http://zunal.com/webquest.php?w=205664>

Introduction

Feel free to peruse these never before seen photos from the march; make sure that you read the caption below each photo so that you know who the major players in the movement were.

Tasks

Your task is to find out more about The March on Washington using the sources provided in the WELCOME SECTION. Task One: What was the purpose of The March on Washington? Do you think that this mission could have been accomplished any other way, if so, how? Task Two: Who were the organizers of the event? Choose one of the organizers or participants and write a brief paragraph telling more about that person. Feel free to include a picture. Task Three: Choose a photo from any part of this quest. Imagine that you are a specific person in the photo. What are your thoughts, feelings? How does your participation in the march make you feel?

Process

All information and resources needed for the process is found on the welcome page. The information below is not at all necessary and can be found in the welcome section. For some reason the program would not allow me to delete it. Peter, Paul, and Mary While The March on Washington was organized by African-Americans, a cross-section of Americans were involved. Many musicians that were popular at the time were involved in the march. YouTube. N.p., 9 Sept. 2009. Web. 24 July 2013. .

Evaluation

Today is your lucky day. Rarely in life will you be able to skip formal assessment in a school setting.

Category and Score					Score
				Total Score

Conclusion

The March on Washington was a seminal event in the history of civil rights in the United States. Make sure that you have completed all of the exercises in the task section.

Teacher Page

My name is Elizabeth Hooper and I am not the person in the picture, but I like the picture very much. I am passionate about the civil rights movement, African-American history, and dark chocolate. I am currently a third grade teacher and the black history chair at an independent school in Houston.

Standards

Credits

Other