Introduction

You are working for the most prestigious literature publishing house of Europe. In two years time the world will be celebrating the anniversary of the first edition of Frankenstein, and the chairman wants you to prepare a special edition to pay tribute to Shelley’s most famous work. The book won’t have the same text as the first edition. We will honour the original book making a new one. This will be your main task. For being able to do your task, you need to explore different aspects on the novel, the period and the main themes.

Briefly, you have to:
- Explore the different elements of a myth
- Identify and explain the Prometheus Myth
- Summarize the Prometheus Myth and explain how Victor is the ‘modern Prometheus’
- Be ready to tell about all the elements, different parts and issues needed to make a tale be considered a myth
- Think and write your own myth tale using all the elements you have learnt
- The Prometheus Myth was Mary Shelley’s alternative title for the novel. Find out what the Prometheus Myth is and how it might relate to Frankenstein’s monster
- Many of the main ideas behind the Romanticism can be seen in Frankenstein. Although the darker motifs of Mary Shelley’s work may not seem to conform the brighter tones of her contemporary friends
- Search and discover everything about this literary movement in England. Find out relevant authors, works and its main characteristics to develop a definition and a general overview on the movement
- Now that you have all the information about this fascinating literary movement, create your own Romantic
- Now that you have all the information about this fascinating literary movement, create your own Romantic
- You will assume the role of a scientist to research and engage the process of creation. Study the topic of raising from dead during Mary Shelley’s period. Evaluate the scientific contest in Frankenstein, pointing out the main elements.
- Since you have researched the secrets of creating and altering life, you now have the power to create your own monster

Tasks

How are you going to deal with all these things? You will be working in five different groups (the publishing house sections).

GROUP 1: SCIENCE FICTION
Task 1: You have to prepare a power point or a prezi to be presented in front of the class, adding all the information in a consistent and understandable way. This presentation shouldn’t be longer than 6 minutes. You will need: laptops, headphones, a pen/a pencil, a notebook...Here are some tips and useful links to develop your tasks:

Task 2: Tale process
You may imitate or parody the literary elements associated with your theme. It could take the form of a poem, a storyboard or a skit...It should be 2 papers long (300-400 words) or 10 storyboard frames in length. It should feature between 6-10 elements derived from your research. It should include the basic story elements: characters, plot, setting, theme, style... It should follow the basic narrative story sequence or story plot pattern: introduction, rising action, climax, falling action and conclusion-ending.

GROUP 5 - SCIENTIFIC BACKGROUND
Task 1
Identify and describe Luigi Galvani, the Galvanism and his discoveries which are relevant to the novel. Identify two examples of attempts to raise the dead from Shelley's life and connect them to the novel. Identify and define the following terms and people: Cornelius Agrippa, Paracelsus, Albertus Magnus, Philosopher's stone, Elixir of Life and alchemy. Focus on how they relate to creating life and contrast them to the novel. Don't worry about the intricate details of people's life.

Task 2: To create your monster
List and consider ideal attributes for a person (a woman and a man). Prepare a list with 5 ideal physical characteristics for each and 5 ideal personality traits. Defence why you think each one is valuable enough to be included in your creation of the perfect human. Choose traits and defend them thoughtfully on a report, so you want to be able to convince your monsters are, in fact, ideal human beings. Search the Internet for images that can represent each trait individually (they can be literal or symbolic). Save these images. Make a digital collage: paste and edit the size of the photos to make sure they all fit on a single page. Present them in a creative composition and print them to be presented to the class. Those will be the covers of the book.

Evaluation

Your project will be evaluated as a group effort. Although individual categories may reflect individual roles, each group member is expected to participate in all aspects of creation and production. Motivation, participation, responsibility, collaboration, interest, good use of language both orally and writing, will be taken into account. Rubric will be given for each student in order to follow personal supervision.

Conclusion

'This was then the reward of my benevolence! I had saved a human being from destruction, and as a recompense I now writhed under the miserable pain of a wound which shattered the flesh and bone. The feelings of kindness and gentleness which I had entertained but a few moments before gave place to hellish rage and gnashing of teeth. Inflamed by pain, I vowed eternal hatred and vengeance to all mankind.'
